Gregory D. Litz Named Interim President of Rochester Hearing and Speech Center

Local Business Executive Gregory D. Litz has been named Interim President of Rochester Hearing and Speech Center (RHSC). The appointment is effective immediately. Vic Montaglione, chairman of RHSC's Board of Trustees made the announcement today and remarked, "Greg is an excellent fit for the Center as we search for a new President to fill the shoes of Peter (Peter K. Hixson, Ph.D). Dr. Hixson passed away on December 2nd after a year-long battle with cancer. Rochester Hearing and Speech Center serves over 20,000 area residents annually for their speech and hearing problems.

Mr. Litz is a 20 year board member of RHSC, a former board chair and receives audiology services from the Center. He brings over 40 years of management experience in both the public and private sectors in the Rochester area, New Jersey and Tennessee with specific experience in human resources. He has demonstrated experience in managing and directing corporate transition efforts including organization design and re-engineering, strategic planning, performance development and training, compensation and benefits, labor relations, recruitment and employment.

Enthusied about this new opportunity, Mr. Litz remarked that "RHSC is a great organization. It has put together an excellent search process which has undertaken a national search for a permanent new president. I am both pleased and honored to be able to lead this fine agency until its new president is in place."

Mr. Litz and his wife Judy reside in Pittsford. They have two grown daughters and three grandchildren.

Rochester Hearing and Speech Center identifies, evaluates and provides treatment for children and adults with speech and hearing problems. A non-profit, United Way agency, its goal is giving back communication and quality of life to those we serve. Its successes with hearing and speech clients over the years have allowed its growth into one of the largest hearing and speech centers in the northeast. Its staff of 70 includes 38 speech language pathologists and 13 person audiology staff.

With the latest state-of-the art testing devices and employing the latest and most effective therapy techniques, its high standard of care provides the highest level of diagnosis and treatment planning available in the Rochester area. Led by two Ph.D's, our experts are dedicated to the advancement of audiology and speech pathology diagnosis and treatment through ongoing research and study.
